JOB DESCRIPTION

Product Managers are flexible, results-oriented, and experienced people who will help drive Google's products from inception to launch. Google Product Managers come from a wide range of backgrounds: many have successfully run their own software/web companies whilst others have delivered successful products for large software companies. They all combine a great instinct for developing compelling products with a strong academic background and technical aptitude to work with a world class engineering team and the business sense to drive local product goals and strategies.

WORK EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENTS

- Launch products
- Identify market opportunities and define product vision and strategy
- Understand customer needs and gather product requirements
- Develop new products and enhance existing products
- Engage closely with the engineering team to help determine the best technical implementation methods as well as a reasonable execution schedule

EDUCATION & OTHER REQUIREMENTS

- Computer Science degree or equivalent experience. Masters or PhD preferred
- MBA degree highly regarded
- End to end Product Management experience of software or web technologies
- Hands-on software development experience
- Entrepreneurial drive with appreciation of user-experience, business, and commercial issues
- Understanding of the Internet, Search Engine, and On-Line Advertising spaces
